DOH-Pasco Launches 2016 Community Health Survey

~~Survey will solicit feedback from residents regarding health issues in Pasco~~

NEW PORT RICHEY, FL ---- The Florida Department in Pasco County is launching its community health online survey to solicit feedback from residents on health issues in Pasco County. This information, combined with community health data, provides input for prioritizing health improvement planning efforts.

“We know that cancer and heart disease are the leading causes of death in Pasco.” said Mike Napier, County Health Officer. “We are looking for resident input on health concerns and what they see impacts our health as a community.”

The online survey will open Thursday, September 8 and remain open through Wednesday September 21st. To take the survey, visit the DOH-Pasco website at <http://pasco.floridahealth.gov/> and click on the survey link on the homepage or click on this link <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/PascoHealth2016>
