Library Meeting Room to be Dedicated to Longtime Volunteer

~~Jane Colin used beloved Labradoodles to help kids read~~

PASCO COUNTY, FL ---- Pasco County Libraries is pleased to announce that a meeting room at the Centennial Park Library will be dedicated to longtime library volunteer Jane Colin. The Dedication Ceremony will be held on Thursday, November 9, 2017 at 3:30 p.m. at the Centennial Park Library, located at 5740 Moog Road in Holiday.

Mrs. Colin, who passed away April 2, 2017, was an integral part of the Pasco County Libraries' PAWS for Friendship program. Through the generosity of the Colin family, Pasco County Libraries is dedicating the meeting room to honor Mrs. Colin's passion for volunteering.

The PAWS for Friendship program provides certified and registered pets to classrooms and libraries to help children develop better reading skills. Children who are struggling to read are much more relaxed when reading to dogs, who have a calming effect on them. Mrs. Colin's two labradoodles, Hershey and Rosie, were especially popular at the library, helping numerous children become better readers.

"Jane gave tirelessly, and with this spirit came great humility and encouragement to continue her work as long as possible," said Jane's husband Dr. Cliff Colin. "Through her convictions and boundless love of her dogs, Jane succeeded in making this a better world."

Pasco County Libraries invites you to join us for this special Dedication Ceremony. Light refreshments will be served.
