Pasco Extension Teaches Winter Cattle Care

~~Learn how to properly feed cattle during winter at free seminar~~

DADE CITY, FL ---- Winter brings significant feeding expenses for cattle ranchers. To help, the UF/IFAS Pasco County Cooperative Extension Service Livestock Program is offering a Winter Supplementation for Cattle Seminar designed to teach cost-effective options to maintain the extra nutrition cattle need during the colder months.

The seminar will take place September 25, 2018, from 6:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. in Clayton Hall at the Pasco County Extension Office, located at 36702 SR 52 in Dade City.

To pre-register for this free class, click here: <http://bit.ly/2Pf4ReB>.

Whether you have a large-scale working ranch, or just one cow to care for, you'll learn how to make budget-friendly decisions about protein and carbohydrate needs for cattle during winter.

Sparr Building and Farm Supply is sponsoring the event and door prize.

The Pasco County Cooperative Extension Service assists Pasco County residents by developing and delivering practical, educational programs in environmental horticulture; sustainable agriculture; 4-H and youth development; and family and consumer sciences.
