

Pasco County Order Requiring Face Coverings Frequently Asked Questions

Do I have to wear a face covering everywhere I go?

Everyone has to wear a face covering while in most indoor public places within Pasco County, although the Executive Order provides several exemptions. An Amended Order provides an exemption for children attending formal day care or childcare programs. *Please note, it's up to individual businesses to decide how to implement the order as it pertains to their specific line of business.

What places and activities are exempt from the face covering requirement?

You can participate in the following activities without wearing a face covering:

- ✓ Attending or participating in religious rituals, such as various forms of singing, provided that social distancing is strictly maintained.
- ✓ Exercising while social distancing, including working out at a gym.
- ✓ Engaging in indoor sporting activities, provided the facility has its own health and safety plan consistent with the county's order.

The order also does not apply if you are strictly adhering to social distancing guidelines and there are 10 or fewer people in the same location who are also maintaining social distancing.

I have a medical issue that affects my ability to wear a face covering. What should I do?

If you have a medical issue that prevents you from wearing a face covering, you are not required to wear one, although you might consider other forms of protection such as a face shield.

What about people who are deaf or hard of hearing?

The county's order does not apply in any situation that conflicts with the Americans with Disabilities Act, including any instance where a person needs to see someone else's mouth in order to communicate.

What about schools, judicial centers and places of worship?

Those facilities are exempt; however, entities such as schools, courthouses, city halls and churches are strongly encouraged to develop procedures to protect employees and the public based on their respective needs, and many already have. It is recommended you check before going to any of those locations, so you are aware of any specific requirements.

Are children required to wear a face covering?

Anyone under the age of two 2, and children in formal daycare programs, are not required to wear a face covering.

What about daycare providers?

Daycare facility staff are required to wear face coverings unless they meet one of the exemptions listed in the county's order. Children attending formal day care or childcare programs are not required to wear a face covering, so long as those facilities have a health and safety plan in place consistent with the county's executive order.
